facilitated by

Masankho Banda & Diane Saliba Ault

August 25-30, 2006

Friday afternoon-Weds lunch (Sat.-Cultures of Peace 7-9pm, Sun-Futureman Concert/Jam 6-10pm)

PART ONE – (Fri to Mon)- Principles & Practices of InterPlay This retreat/workshop covers the techniques and body wisdom principles of InterPlay. Learn to lead your life in a more embodied, playful way. Reclaim voice, movement, stillness, and stories as primary ways of knowing. Ground yourself in a communal ethic of play to replace stress with health, creativity, joy and purpose. Learn specific ways to deepen the practice of honoring body wisdom in you and in your community. Secrets of InterPlay, Level One is part of the core curriculum for those enrolled in the InterPlay Leadership Program. This workshop is also open to anyone desiring an in-depth introduction to InterPlay. TRIBE ONE is the program setting and includes a FUTUREMAN concert!

PART TWO (Tues. & Weds.) - Discovering Group Body Wisdom Principles- What makes for strong, sustainable, peaceful, and powerful groups? What are the “secrets” that create health and wholeness for the individuals within families, businesses, communities, churches, social movements? We’ll bring together several leaders with deep wisdom about this subject for a day at Highlander Center, a place that is rich with the history and context for exploring the ways art and activism, creativity and culture are inextricably linked. By sharing our stories, songs, moving together, and hanging out in the famous room full of rocking chairs overlooking the TN mountains, we’ll glean some insights into how the global communities of InterPlay are developing, contributing and evolving as a soulforce for a better world.

Tuition: ranges from $95 to $290 for both parts-(included in leadership program, 2X2 SCHOLARSHIPS- special invitation to peace & justice, community artists groups to send 2 representatives each and some bartering and work exchange is available also Room & Board: Tribe One in the downtown area will be the main location for Part One of this retreat. Part Two will involve a Black Mozart Concert with Futureman, a day trip up to Highlander Center on Tuesday, an afternoon at Knoxville College, and then a closing back at Tribe One on Weds.
